COMPANY BIO

Nemesis Arms is a family owned and operated company. Founded in February 2008, with the purchase of the Mini-Windrunner from EDM Arms. The Mini-Windrunner was based in part on the Windrunner .50 Cal Rifle to accept the .308 Winchester round. Over the next year and a half many changes were made to improve upon the repeatability, accuracy, dependability and simplicity of the rifle platform. Along with these enhancements, a name change was needed to celebrate the genesis of this unique rifle platform and set it apart from its humble origins.

In 2010 the Vanquish was introduced. The Vanquish is the only bolt-action rifle that can be completely disassembled into six parts without using tools, can fit into an 18" x 10" x 6" briefcase or backpack for transport, can be assembled in under 20 seconds and retain ½" MOA at 300 yards. The Vanquish can be changed to five different calibers, .338 Federal, .308 Winchester, .260 Remington, 6.5 Creedmoor and .243 Winchester with simply a barrel change, utilizing the same bolt and magazine.

Nemesis Arms continues to develop and adapt new features and options for the Vanquish, many of which can be applied to the earlier versions of this rifle platform. Based on excellence, quality and craftsmanship, Nemesis Arms is unparalleled in its customer service, technical support and knowledge of the firearms industry.
